

CELEBRATION OF WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY ON 5TH JUNE 2025 AT LUVAS

The Pranvayu Club of Directorate of Student's Welfare, Lala Lajpat Rai University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences (LUVAS) under the able guidance of Worthy Vice Chancellor marked the World Environment Day 2025 celebrations on 5th June 2025 with a series of impactful and engaging activities aimed at fostering environmental awareness and encouraging sustainable practices within the university community. An awareness drive through short videos, posters and plantation activities was conducted by the LUVAS students to highlight pressing environmental issues such as deforestation, water scarcity, and climate change.

For continuous promotion about environmental related awareness a range of activities were conducted in the campus throughout the year. The activities included mass tree plantation drives on the university campus, where students, faculty, and staff enthusiastically planted native and drought-resistant species to enhance biodiversity and ecological resilience.

This was followed by a cleanliness and campus beautification campaign, during which volunteers collected plastic waste, cleaned green spaces, and displayed informative posters on waste segregation and recycling.

Additionally, poster-making session was held to encourage creative expression and student engagement, with the best entries showcased in prominent areas of the university to inspire the wider community.

The initiatives by the Pranvayu Club successfully engaged a broad section of the LUVAS community. The events not only enhanced awareness but also reinforced the university's commitment to environmental stewardship and sustainable development.
